England and France to Renew Offer for Compromise

GENEVA, Sept. 5.—(UP)—The Italian delegation walked out of the League council room tonight, and presently out of the League's jurisdiction in the Ethiopian dispute, after Gaston Jex, representing Ethiopia, had asked the council to unmask Italy's "sinister designs."

SAVED Father F. A. Wexenman, former pastor of St. Joseph's church here, a passenger on the wrecked liner Dixie, was landed at Miami today and praised the crew for their work.

PASSENGERS OF WRECKED LINER ALL RESCUED

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 5.—(UP)—Capt. E. W. Sundstrom of the ill-fated Morgan liner Dixie, suffered two sprained ankles when a huge wave crashed him against a bulkhead of his ship during the storm which drove the Dixie onto a reef, it was revealed today.

REMAINING PASSENGERS OF THE ill-fated Morgan liner Dixie were removed today, according to radio advices.

RESCUE SHIPS last night removed 110 of the 186 passengers, and 54 members of the crew, leaving 122 passengers and 97 crew aboard the vessel overnight.

A motor launch of the salvage tug Warbler came alongside the Dixie shortly after dawn today and removed 20 passengers.

Other Ships Aid Then two coast guard launches carried off 34 more passengers.

At 8:30 a. m. the Morgan liner Dixie, grounded in the task of transferring the remaining passengers.

The last passenger was taken from the Dixie at 9:50 a. m. E.D.T. Capt. Einar Sundstrom reported.

Fr. Wexenman Rescued The Rev. Father F. A. Wexenman, of San Diego, formerly of Santa Ana, one of the passengers landed at Miami, praised the officers and crew.

COUNTY CREDIT UNION BEST IN U. S.

Official Of Government Speaks Here

THE Orange County Teachers Credit Union, first and only credit union in the county, is also the best credit union among all the 3600 credit unions operating in the United States.

This statement came last night from a high national source, Lowell Johnson, of Washington, representative of the Farm Credit Administration, which governs the credit unions, under the federal credit union act of 1934.

Johnson spoke last night before a meeting of board members and other members of the First Christian church, which congregation will have a meeting next Wednesday evening to decide the question of organizing a credit union among members of the congregation.

The origin, history and operating methods of credit unions were described by Johnson at last night's meeting, held in the Educational building of the church.

Showing the scope of the credit union movement, he said that the 3600 credit unions now operating in the United States have accumulated reserves of between $70,000,000 and $75,000,000, while providing their members with small loans at reasonable interest rates, for "production or provident" purposes, which are interpreted to cover a wide range, including anything that will benefit the member: clothing, household equipment, vacation expenses, automobiles, doctor bills, and other items.

One credit union approved a loan to a member for the purchase of an engagement ring, holding this to be a "productive" purpose, he said.

Fought bitterly by the loan "sharks," who have been cheated of many a victim by the credit unions, the movement, which originated in 1848 when a group of German farmers had trouble getting loans from their banks, had spread in various forms to other countries, Johnson stated. In 1900 it was introduced into Canada. In 1909, Edward A. Filene, wealthy Boston merchant, sponsored and procured passage of the first credit union law in Massachusetts.

Filene, who is said to have spent more than $1,000,000 of his private fortune fostering the credit union movement, also sponsored the act.

"They worked in perfect accord and deserve the highest credit for their courage in the face of disaster and their wonderful morale, which never wavered," he said. "The passengers kept their heads marvelously and did not once let any thought of confusion enter their ranks. There was mass singing aboard the Dixie Monday evening when we went aground to keep our spirits up. Many of us prayed."

"About 8 o'clock Monday evening we put on life preservers and, regardless of the terrific mental strain, there was no hysteria."

CONFERR MEDAL ON GEN. MACARTHUR

INCREASE IN CITY TAX RATE ACTUALLY 19.6 PER CENT; COMBINED TOTAL 21 PER CENT

ACTION of local officials today in challenging The Register's statements regarding the increase in city and county tax burden upon Santa Ana taxpayers this year, backfired when it developed that the increase in city taxes will actually be 19.5 per cent, instead of 13 per cent, as previously stated by The Register. It further developed that the combined increase in city and county tax burden will be approximately 21 per cent.

A statement issued by City Auditor Lloyd Banks attempting to show that the taxpayer's burden would be only 8.6 per cent increase, itself showed the 19.5 per cent increase in the city tax. It further showed that in arriving at a figure of 8.6 per cent, Banks counted a reduction in school taxes.

The Register's statement had not in any way referred to school taxes, and, in fact, expressly omitted them, feeling that the taxpayers should not be deceived by efforts of politicians to take credit for tax reductions on account of school tax transfer to the state.

School Tax Transferred The school tax saving, it was felt, is purely fictitious. The taxpayer continues to pay it; merely pays it out of his state pocket instead of his local pocket. The sum of $897,719 in local school taxes in Orange county was transferred to the state, but is still being used by local officials in an attempt to show tax savings.

Banks' estimate of an 8.6 per cent increase, including school savings, was an eloquent demonstration that local taxing bodies have already wiped out the reduction represented by the transfer of school taxes to the state, amounting to nearly $900,000 for the county, and, in Santa Ana at least, have gone 8.9 per cent beyond it with their spending.

As to the city tax increase, Banks' figures showing that a $1000 property last year is assessed at $1350 this year, because of the valuation ratio increase; that last year's city rate of $1.75 applied to $1000 valuation gave a tax of $17.50, whereas this year's tax rate of $1.55 applied to this year's valuation of $1350, would make a tax of $20.92 for the same property, an increase of $3.42 or 19.5 per cent.

County Increase Stands Efforts similarly to show smaller percentage increases in the county tax burden than the 23.3 per cent stated by The Register likewise left The Register's figures unaffected.

The reason was that The Register arrived at its figures by a very simple method. The county budget shows that $1,665,299 will be raised in taxes this year by the county, as compared to $1,297,378 last year. That is an increase of $367,921, or 28.3 per cent. It is a matter that deals only with

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 5.—(UP)—A nationwide campaign by newspaper, radio, schools and churches for total abstinence and "abolition of the saloon evil" was announced by Mrs. Nelle G. Burgess, national recording secretary of the W.C.T.U., in a speech prepared for delivery today.

The address was at a school of alcohol education preliminary to the 61st annual W.C.T.U. convention which opens tomorrow night. She admired the sincerity of the ten-year campaign proposed by the council for moderation "to teach the American people how to use alcoholic liquors," she said, but was impressed by its lack of "intelligence."

REPORT ON CRASH WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(UP)—The federal radio communications commission reported on the airplane crash which cost the lives of Senator Bronson Cutting, Republican, N. M., and five other passengers, today charged 45 violations of commission rules and regulations for radio operators. None of the violations, however, the commission said, had any bearing on the handling of the plane.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 5.—(UP)—Mary Pickford was recovering today from the shock of a near riot which ensued when several thousand women fought to obtain her autograph.

She had announced she would autograph copies of her novel "Demi-Widow," in a downtown department store, but was unprepared for the enthusiastic reception.

MERRIAM NOT DISPLEASED AT O'BRIEN PLEDGE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 5.—(UP)—A former cowgirl who is doomed to die on the gallows October 4 may have to wait until the eve of her execution date before knowing whether or not a California prison director told the truth when he said the governor would not let her hang.

Gov. Frank F. Merriam will take no action in the case of Mrs. Nellie Madison until "later on" when he has had an opportunity to study the trial transcript and the confession which Mrs. Madison made after entering Tehachapi women's prison.

He did not regard as serious Prison Director A. R. O'Brien's action in assuring the woman that she need not worry about being hanged.

Not Serious Matter "So long as Mr. O'Brien made it clear to the public that I had no connection with his promise," Merriam said, "I don't consider it a serious matter."

"Mr. O'Brien or anyone else can say anything he wants to on his own initiative, but I believe it was rather indiscreet for him to tell Mrs. Madison her sentence would not be carried out. I did not authorize him or anyone to speak for me."

The governor said he would not act in the case—if he acts at all—until later.

"In matters of this kind," he said, "I prefer to wait as long as possible because of the danger of new developments altering the situation. Mrs. Madison may talk again, tell a different story. We have a month, yet."

Governor Only Hope High state courts have turned down Mrs. Madison's appeals and only Merriam can save her.

She was convicted in Los Angeles of shooting her husband, a minor executive in a film studio. She at first insisted the man was not Madison. Later, at Tehachapi, she made a confession, saying Madison drew a knife to kill her and that she fired in self defense.

Her case drew the attention of O'Brien, a Ukiah newspaper publisher and member of the board of prison directors, when he visited Tehachapi recently.

O'Brien, affected greatly by the woman's plight and her obvious fear, lingered in her cell a moment after Warden James Holohan of San Quentin and Matron Josephine Jackson went into the hall. He turned to Mrs. Madison and said:

"Do not say anything to anyone. Just keep this to yourself. I happen to know Governor Merriam will not let you hang."

"Of course," O'Brien explained in an article in his newspaper, the Republican Press, "I knew nothing of the sort, but my code of life had taught me that when it becomes necessary to lie to save a woman from a great grief, the thing to do is to lie, like a gentleman."

"When Governor Merriam hears about what I did there may be a vacancy on the board of prison directors of California, but even so, the buoying up of that woman murderer, decreed to hang so soon, is worth my being dismissed."

The Governor, however, when asked if he would remove O'Brien from the board, chuckled and said:

Crack Liner Endangered In Collision

LISBON, Sept. 5.—(UP)—Rescue vessels today removed 636 passengers safely from the Cunard White Star liner Doric after the ship collided in deep fog with the French steamship Formigny 40 miles west northwest of Oporto. The crew of 400 remained aboard.

The Doric and the Formigny collided at 3:15 a. m. (9:15 p. m. Wednesday CST) as the Doric was proceeding homeward from a Mediterranean cruise and the Formigny was proceeding to Oran, Algeria.

Captain Greig of the Doric sent an SOS, giving his position as 41:19 north latitude, 9:34 west longitude. The Peninsular and Oriental liner Viceroy of India and the steamship Orion proceeded to the rescue. Between them they got off the Doric's passengers and proceeded to London, where they are due Saturday.

The safety of her passengers assured, the Doric proceeded slowly toward London under her own steam.

The Doric's how was damaged. Reports indicated the Formigny was not seriously damaged.

Included in the Doric's passengers were a number who were aboard the Laurentine when she collided with the Napier Star August 17 while leaving Liverpool.

EGYPT CONSIDERING CANAL AGREEMENTS

CAIRO, Sept. 5.—(UP)—The Egyptian premier, questioned by newspaper correspondents today as to whether the government had considered the possibility of closing the Suez canal, said the cabinet was "studying certain international agreements from a legal viewpoint without any fixed intention or preconceived object."

LATE FLASHES

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—(UP)—Jayne Kusek, stage and screen actress, told him she knew "plenty" about the unsolved disappearance several years ago of Supreme Court Justice Joseph F. Crater of New York, her husband, Maurice L. Kusek, charged today in a court petition concerning his divorce suit.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(UP)—Administrator Harry L. Hopkins announced late today that $73,563 persons—about one-third the New Deal plans to employ by Nov. 1—are working under the $4,000,000,000 work-relief program.

PARIS, Sept. 5.—(UP)—Ten officers and enlisted men were reported killed today when two army airplanes collided during maneuvers at Rethel.

CROP DAMAGE IN FLORIDA EXPECTED TO MEAN MORE RETURNS TO LOCAL GROWERS

CALIFORNIA and Orange county citrus growers will derive considerable benefit from the Florida hurricane, which has wreaked much damage in the citrus sections of the rival state, it was revealed today by Paul Armstrong, general manager of the California Fruit Growers exchange.

"Florida's crop," Armstrong said, "was expected to be lighter than usual, due to destructive frosts during the winter." In addition, it was shown, estimates of storm damage to the standing Florida crop range from 25 per cent in some sections to 50 and 75 per cent in others.

"This naturally will increase the California market," Armstrong explained. "However, we have expected a larger crop than usual this year, and better sales already have been felt."

WIND'S FURY IN FLORIDA SUBSIDING

Red Cross Death Estimate 300; Others Reach 1000 Mark

(Copyright, 1935, by United Press) MIAMI, Sept. 5.—(UP)—Rescue parties today penetrated into areas of the hurricane devastated Florida Keys completely isolated since raging winds killed between 300 and 750 men, women and children Monday night.

They found bodies buried in sand and mud, bodies smashed into uprooted trees, all habitations wrecked, and similar devastation that tended to confirm the highest estimates of the dead.

A United Press survey, including many reports based on stories of rescuers and not otherwise confirmed, indicated the eventual death toll would exceed 500.

The Miami Beach Daily Tribune, in a copyrighted article, estimated the dead at 749, the injured at 429, the missing at 300.

Red Cross Estimate The Red Cross official estimate said the number of dead would approximate 300.

W. P. Moity, Dade county criminal court clerk, who surveyed the Keys by boat, telegraphed Gov. Dave Sholtz that "fatalities may reach 1000."

"I found dead scattered all up and down the Keys," Moity related. "Some of the areas were completely wiped out. When I saw bodies floating a good way out in the ocean and other bodies tangled in matted and uprooted underbrush, I knew the loss would be terrific."

"It will be weeks before bodies buried in the mud and forced into underbrush can be dug out. And winds and tides that forced houses out into the water must have been so terrific that they tossed many persons out past shore to drown."

Governor Takes Charge Gov. Dave Sholtz, at Tallahassee, announced that he was leaving by automobile for Miami to take personal charge of the storm relief.

LIVESTOCK PARADE HELD AT STATE FAIR

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 5.—(UP)—A million dollar livestock parade featured activities at the State Fair today as the finest western horses, cattle, swine and sheep passed in review before the main grandstand.

Nearly every head of livestock entered in the fair contests was groomed to participate in the parade which is held annually for a double purpose—to show off the valuable livestock and to honor the state's chief executive on "Governor's Day."

Later, Governor Frank F. Merriam was to be guest of honor at a luncheon.

OFFICIAL COUNTY ASSESSMENT VALUATION FIGURES REVEALED; TOTAL REACHES $191,926,630

Total assessed valuation of Orange county property for 1935-1936 today was announced as $191,926,630 by County Auditor W. T. Lambert.

The figure is an increase of $66,097,685 in valuation subject to county taxation as compared with last year's total of $125,844,945. This increase is accounted for by a 25 per cent increase in the assessment ratio made by the state division of equalization and the addition of $16,955,310 in public utility property valuation, which was transferred from state to county rolls this year.

ESTIMATES OF DEATH REACH HIGH OF 1000

He will be joined at St. Augustine by A. J. Gen. Vivian B. Collins.

"I find there has been little organization of relief work and I am going there to take personal charge myself," the governor said. "En route I will ascertain what the damage was in North Florida over which the storm passed last night."

"Florida wants to give every possible aid to every person stricken by the storm," Sholtz said.

The governor was informed that there was no loss of life in the Florida peninsula (St. Petersburg) but he had not heard personally from the Madison-Live Oak-Cedar key section in North Florida.

Bodies Recovered

Work of bringing bodies from the keys moved ahead, meanwhile as the emergency machinery established in the wake of the death-dealing storm began to function more efficiently.

Evacuation of the desolated area by airplane, boat and foot progressed to such a stage that relief authorities were considering a thorough study of Cape Sabie, on the mainland, which was immediately in the path of the swirling hurricane.

Survivors being taken to various emergency hospitals continued to tell of the stark horrors of the storm.

Plan Cremation

At Homestead, one of the relief centers, T. S. Kennedy, director of sanitation of the state board of health, was seeking permission to cremate bodies left in storm debris.

"It is essential to sanitation," he said, "but I would hesitate to do this without permission of the federal government. I have wired Dr. N. A. Baltzell, president of the United States board of health for such permission."

General Collins wired Governor Sholtz from St. Augustine that "no alarming reports have been received from north Florida," over which the storm passed last night.

Early today the storm passed into south Georgia, causing some damage to crops. Shipping was warned of southeast gales along the south Atlantic from Savannah to the Virginia capes.

PRESIDENT ORDERS INVESTIGATION

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 5.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today ordered a study to determine why veterans on the Florida keys were not rescued before the hurricane hit and why safety precautions were not taken at their camps in advance.

Mr. Roosevelt, it was announced, by the Summer White House here, has called on Gen. Frank T. Hines, veterans' administrator, and Harry Hopkins, FERA head, to designate persons to conduct the study.

Air Ordered

The president hastily mapped out a three-point program in connection with rehabilitation of those men who survived the storm. He ordered:

- 1.—Prompt hospitalization for the injured and ill.
- 2.—Complete rehabilitation with all speed.
- 3.—Caskets for the dead, the bodies to be sent home and given full military burial. In cases where next of kin wishes government to retain body, burial to be with full military honors in Arlington National cemetery.

STRIKE TIES UP DOLLAR STEAMER

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—(UP)—Tie-up of the Dollar liner President Pierce, by a walkout of firemen and seamen, was reported today by the Waterfront Employers Association. The employers' organization said longshoremen refused to work the ship when a picket line was thrown around it at a local pier.

Demand for the discharge of a steward because "the crew didn't like the food served them," the employers said, was the sole ground given for the walkout.

what the taxpayers paid last year and what they will pay this year; has nothing to do with rates, valuations, or any other complicated maneuver.

Efforts to challenge these figures were based upon employment of tax rates. The Banks statement, and another communication, received from County Supervisor W. C. Jerome, quoted the present tax rate applied to present valuations, and last year's tax rate, applied to last year's valuations, to show that a property which paid $8.20 in taxes last year would pay $9.32 this year, a comparatively slight increase.

It was significant, however, that this comparison does not take into consideration certain special funds and rates, such as flood control, which actually added $262,254 in taxes to be raised, to the totals under the inside and outside county tax rates. This is the money to be raised from the taxpayer. That was the thing The Register was talking about—money to be paid by the taxpayer; not rates nor valuations.

Thus, efforts to minimize the increase in the tax burden, include the fictitious saving in school taxes, and omit the increases represented in the special funds not under the county tax rates. All of The Register's figures are in the auditor's statement. The Register was including all the taxes, except the school tax. The other figures ignored and avoided part of them.

The estimate of a combined increase amounting to approximately 21 per cent in city and county tax increase, is obtained from Auditor Banks' own statement, with the school tax omitted. The total thus remaining on his statement shows an increase of 23 per cent in the county (Banks' figures) and 19.5 in the city.

Miss Devoca Doxey, of Los Angeles, a movie actress, said she thought her experience "thrilling."

"It was much more thrilling than all the make believe in the movies," she said. "I'm certainly not sorry I was here."

Salvage Work Planned

Examination of the hull, resting high on French Reef about 15 miles off the Florida coast, was to be made shortly to determine the best method of salvaging the vessel. The Merritt-Chapman-Scott Salvage company tug Warbler, which aided in the rescue, is equipped for that work.

The Dixie was blown around Monday night in a hurricane. Most of those removed today were to be brought to Miami to join the 77 passengers and 54 crew members brought here before dawn for transfer to a special train which will take them to New York, their original destination.

The El Mundo of the Morgan line landed 19 passengers and one member of the Dixie's crew at the Clyde-Mallory docks. The coast guard cutter Carabasset landed 23 passengers and A. J. Slevin, the Dixie's purser. The El Occidente, also of the Morgan line, landed 35 passengers and 12 of the crew, and the United Fruit boat, San Benito, landed 40 members of the crew, all commissary workers.

Injuries Slight

The passengers were in excellent spirits and uninjured except for minor bruises which a few suffered by being thrown against bulkheads while the Dixie fought the hurricane that threw it on the reef.

Thirty-three other passengers were taken off the Dixie by life boats of rescue ships before darkness postponed the rescue. Twenty were aboard the United Fruit liner Atenas and 13 were aboard the tanker Reaper. Because of their draught, neither vessel could enter Miami harbor. The Atenas will land its rescued at Charleston, S. C., Friday and the Reaper will land hers at Wilmington, N. C., Saturday.

FEDERAL INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(UP)—Federal agencies took initial action today to determine whether new maritime safety laws enacted by the last congress were observed by owners of the Dixie, grounded on French Reef off the Florida coast.

The new legislation opens the way for legal action if it can be proved that the judgment of the captain in taking his ship into treacherous waters during severe weather was such as to constitute negligence.

If negligence could be proved the bill provides the company is liable to a sum equaling the tonnage of the ship multiplied by $50 for each ton. In the case of the 2185-ton Dixie this would be $109,250. If no negligence can be proved, passengers of the Dixie would have no ground for suit.

FUNERAL OF CRASH VICTIM TOMORROW

Funeral services for Otto A. Metz, 55, 327 South Helena street, Anaheim, instantly killed Saturday night at 10 o'clock when he was run down on Manchester avenue, in Los Angeles county near Norwalk, by a car driven by Vernon Mansur, of Orange, will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Hilgenfelt funeral parlors in Anaheim at 2 p. m.

A coroner's inquest into his death, held by Los Angeles officials at Norwalk yesterday, absolved Mansur of responsibility in connection with the accident, it was reported.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. S. E. Schrader, pastor of the Salem Evangelical church, and burial will be made in the Anaheim cemetery.

The pallbearers are: Frank Trokey, J. P. Gibson, George Chetelat, J. S. Bouldin, James Reeves, Dick Strock, R. Nyboe and Robert Clark, all employees of the city of Anaheim. The deceased had been a city employee for a number of years.

APPROPRIATE FUND TO AID FARMERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today set aside $2,000,000 of his $4,000,000,000 work-relief fund to help farmers scale down their debts.

He made the money available to the rural resettlement administration to defray expenses of 15,000 volunteer workers operating in 45 states to bring debtors and creditors together.

The allocation transferred the task from the old farm credit administration, organized in 1933, to Rexford Guy Tugwell, whose job under the work-relief program is to rehabilitate agriculture.

The FCA, according to Governor William L. Myers, worked in every state except Maine, Massachusetts and Vermont. It saved some 150,000 farm homes from foreclosure, and probably kept 500,000 rural persons off federal relief rolls.

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor, Register:

Dear Sir: It is by earnest desire that the taxpayers of Orange County and Santa Ana be correctly informed as to our taxes and tax rates. Why there should be so much misunderstanding and misinformation about concerning these two matters is more than I can understand. A number of times, recently, perfectly palpable errors or intentional misstatements have been given glaring publicity, with the result that many taxpayers, who are certainly entitled to a straight-forward statement and careful and accurate information are badly confused.

I am very much concerned, therefore, over the misinformation that appeared in your paper last evening. It appears to me that the reporter who wrote the article failed to grasp the significance of figures that seem to have been given to him, and his conclusions are so plainly in error that I am suggesting that you publish this statement from me.

The statement was that our tax payers would find their city and county taxes increased 41 per cent and that the taxpayer who paid $100 last year would be called upon to pay $141.00 this year.

Then followed an analysis of Santa Ana's tax set-up showing an increase from $17.50 for city purposes to $20.92 on a property valued at $1000.00 last year. This was the only truthful statement in the article.

Had he analyzed the county tax situation in the same manner he would have showed the following: The taxpayer last year on $1000 paying $9.20, this year the same property $18.50 at 6% rate $9.31 combined city and county last year $26.70 this year $30.23 or an increase of $3.53 which is a trifle over 13 per cent and not 41 per cent, and which the county increase was a little less than one-half of one per cent and not 28.5 per cent as stated in the article.

The article also criticizes the city trustees for providing for a debt that the State Supreme Court has held they must pay. Both boards had themselves in this position. They must pay the obligations that were created by their predecessors.

In the discussion in your paper last night, nothing was said concerning school rates or taxes, and therefore I am not referring to school rates or taxes in this statement. I am dealing only with city and county rates and taxes.

What I want to make clear to you is:

First, the increase in city taxes will be a bit over thirteen per cent, due entirely and almost entirely, to the fact that the city is to pay off certain obligations declared by the Supreme Court to be lying against it; by which I mean, the obligation to pay certain district obligations.

Second, the county taxes will be almost exactly the same as last year upon any given piece of property.

Orange county will have the lowest tax rate and probably the lowest per capita tax bill of any county in the state.

WM. C. JEROME.

Mr. Jerome is correct in his statement that there was a mistake made in "The Register," and therefore I am not referring to school rates or taxes in this statement. I am dealing only with city and county rates and taxes.

Johnson said that 400 new credit unions are expected to be organized each month this winter in 60 industries.

Membership Restricted

The credit union is strictly a group organization, he said. Members in any credit union are restricted to the members of that union's particular association or occupation.

Under the congressional act of 1924, the federal government issues charters to credit unions. The Orange county union, however, operates under a state charter.

To join a credit union, an applicant pays a membership fee of 25 cents, and subscribes for at least one share, which amounts to $5. In addition he may deposit savings with the union, in any amount. He may pay for the $5 unit or share, at the rate of 25 cents per month, said Johnson.

The membership fees start a reserve fund, which is increased by 20 per cent of the net income at the end of the year, this reserve to be a guaranty against bad loans.

No Losses

The Orange County Teachers' union has no losses to date, having a conservative policy of accepting as members only those teachers employed under contract. Loans up to $50 are granted without security, but above that amount must have co-signers to notes. The county union will pay about 6 per cent interest to its members on their investments and deposits this year, according to Acting Secretary George Holmes, of Santa Ana.

No credit union has failed during the 25 years they have operated in the United States, Johnson told the meeting last night. They are empowered to loan to any individual up to $200, or 10 per cent of their assets, whichever amount is the larger. Loans cannot be made for longer than two years. The interest rate charged is one per cent on unpaid balances. Johnson gave an example showing that a member who borrowed $100 for ten months, to be paid off at $10 per month, paid a total interest charge of $5.30.

Officers of credit unions must serve without salary, except for the treasurer, who may be paid compensation after the first year. No official of the local credit union is paid.

Local Officers

Officials of the Orange County Teachers Credit Union, which has about 200 members, are as follows: R. L. Spang, Olive elementary school, president; Fred Fredrickson, Fremont school, Anaheim, vice-president; H. P. Jackson, Santa Ana high school, secretary-treasurer. These officers are also members of the board of directors, which likewise includes: Aubrey Gilman, Jefferson school, Santa Ana; Bruce Clark, Fullerton Junior college; Norman Hicks, Willard Junior high, Santa Ana; Isabelle Lindsay, Hoover school, Santa Ana; Vernon Shippee, Orange high school; R. Eleanor Palmer, Tustin elementary; Myrtle Steukle, Fullerton Junior college.

FARM CENTERS START MEMBER DRIVES SOON

Dates for the membership campaign of Orange County Farm Centers, starting September 19 at Cypress-Magnolia, and finishing November 8 at Garden Grove, were approved today by the board of directors of the Orange County Farm Bureau in their regular monthly session.

The quota for the 1935 campaign was set by the membership department at 260 new farm family members. According to Chairman R. J. Mueller, it is expected that paid membership this year will exceed 1500 farm families. The membership plan provides for conducting the campaign in each Farm Center separately from the other centers.

State Delegate R. J. McFadden advised that the Farm Bureau of Southern California will hold its regional meeting at Laguna Beach September 28, at the Las Ondas cafe.

The tax committee has been requested to bring in recommendations which will be forwarded to the State Farm Bureau, which in turn will request that the California budget be balanced at the special session this winter from reduction of expenditures, rather than from the development of new taxes.

PERJURY CASE DISMISSED

THRESHING OF LIMA BEANS TO START IN WEEK

Orange county lima bean growers probably will receive slightly more for their crops this year than in 1934, it was learned today.

Threshing of limas will start in most of the county next week. Black-eye bean threshing already is under way in some parts of the county, notably on the Irvine ranch.

Excessive heat during August has cut the crop estimate by about 20 per cent, farmers and growers association heads said today, but this, instead of reducing the net income, probably will tend to set a higher price for the beans.

Leading Bean Center
Orange county, one of the leading lima bean centers in the state, last year had 24,904 acres of limas under cultivation. Total production from limas was 34,552,143 pounds, producing a net income of $1,777,853.

While the production figures for 1935 will be considerably under the 1934 figure, according to present estimates, the income to farmers will be well over the million and a half mark.

Black-eyes last year were planted on 7752 acres. A total of 6,841,537 pounds were harvested, at a net income of $193,361. There were 178 acres of other beans planted.

Threshing, when it commences, will give employment to hundreds of field workers now on SERA relief roles, considerably lowering welfare costs for September.

Santa Ana police had the biggest month in its history in August, so far as arrests were concerned, outside of traffic citations, although the total number of arrests were fewer than in July. The number of arrests outside of traffic tickets showed an enormous increase.

There was a total of 527 persons arrested during the month, as compared with 580 last month. Of this number this month, there were 282 arrested for overtime parking and similar violations as compared with 433 last month.

Monthly Report Filed
The monthly report, filed today by Frank Lutz, desk sergeant, showed there were 10 persons arrested for driving cars while under the influence of liquor, as compared with six last month; there were 94 arrested for speeding and other violations of the state laws on the streets, as compared with 60 last year.

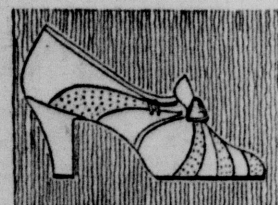

Ten persons were arrested for vagrancy as compared with seven last year; three were arrested for robbery against none last month; five asserted burglars were arrested during August and two in July. Twenty-two persons were arrested on bench warrants, against two last month; nine were arrested for assault, two in July and four were arrested for other crimes as compared with none in July.

Arrest 67 Drunks
There were a total of 67 persons arrested for drunkenness during the month of August, as compared with 55 in July. The number arrested on this charge is not

POLICE LAUNCH SEARCH FOR FIRST DOG-NAPERS IN CITY

Santa Ana police today were searching for their first dog-nappers, a man and a woman in a large sedan who last night dog-napped Sam, valuable black shepherd belonging to J. J. C. Robinson, 719 East Second street.

Sam, a trained police dog about 15 months old, was stolen on Second street at about 7:30 o'clock last night as he and his master were returning home from the store, where Robinson had bought the dog his dinner.

Sam was carrying a bundle of meat between his jaws and leading the dog toward home when the car drove up and the dog-napper jumped out.

Announcing his intentions to the startled owner of the pet, the man threw Sam into the car and jumped in after him as the woman drove off. Robinson ran after the car, obtaining its license number, which he gave to police today, together with a description of the man.

He is offering a reward for the return of his dog, which he had trained as a ranch worker. The animal is large, friendly, and all black with the exception of a white right foot, Robinson said.

WOODWARD NEW MAN ARRAIGNED PRESIDENT OF ON KIDNAPING TOASTMASTERS CHARGE TODAY

Arthur Woodward, Santa Ana insurance man, was elected president of Toastmaster's club No. 1 at the regular semi-annual election meeting of the club, held last night at the Green Cat cafe.

George De Rouillac, Santa Ana, was elected vice president of the club; David Cherry, Newport Beach, was elected sergeant-at-arms, and D. H. Tibbals, Santa Ana, was re-elected secretary.

In the speaking competitions following dinner first place was taken by Tibbals, talking on "Accidental Life-Saving."

Dwight Hamilton, taking the subject, "The Skipper and His Ship," and Carl Bosch, taking as his subject, "Save That Life!" were tied for second place.

BABIES DROP PLAN FOR TRIP; GO HOME

Two five-year-old boys who reside next door to each other on Halladay street here, yesterday started out to see the world and particularly New York.

They got as far as Bishop street between Kilson drive and Hickory street, got lost, decided they didn't want to go to New York, and would much prefer to be home with their mothers.

The police were called and after the perils of travelling were discussed, the babies were taken home.

a record, however, the record having been made in September 1934, when 79 asserted drunks were taken into custody.

During the month just passed, there were 508 calls answered from the police station as compared with 457 in July and there were 302 broadcasts sent out from the local station.

Property stolen during August was valued at $5,268.80 and property recovered amounted to $4,343.81. Last month property worth $4,172.12 was stolen and $3,164.50 worth of property recovered.

In August there were 12 automobiles reported stolen and 12 recovered. In July there were 12 cars reported stolen and seven recovered. Nine bicycles were reported stolen this past month of which four have been found.

August Jungkeit Jr., 24, former Orange county man, arrested at Bakersfield several days ago on a charge of robbery and kidnapping, was arraigned on the two counts in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today and his preliminary examination was set for September 11, at 9 a. m. Bail of $10,000 was demanded. He is in the county jail.

The prisoner was taken to Los Angeles yesterday for identification and was returned to the county jail last night.

The county grand jury indicted Jungkeit almost a year ago as being the bandit who held up a Holly Sugar company truck, at South Main street and the Dyer road, on the night of August 4, 1934. At that time, the driver of the truck was kidnapped and taken to Costa Mesa, and the truck, containing $1300 worth of sugar, was stolen.

The grand jury indicted for robbery and grand theft. Sheriff's officers, handling the case stated today that the state would push the kidnapping case, and that the robbery and kidnapping would be charged, the grand jury indictment probably to be dismissed when the case came into the superior court.

CHEST LEADERS TO OUTLINE CAMPAIGN

The first "Progress Report Luncheon," called to get everything in readiness for the Santa Ana Community Chest campaign this year, will be held tomorrow noon in campaign headquarters, 410 North Sycamore street, it was

LOCAL SCHOOL BONDS AMOUNT TO $1,258,000

The Santa Ana school district, which will vote September 26 on a $180,000 bond issue for a school building program already is bonded for a total of $1,258,000 and is paying nearly $250,000 per year for interest and redemption of this amount, school officials said today.

Statistics issued from the office of City Superintendent Frank A. Henderson show that outstanding elementary school bonds total $644,000 and the high school district bonds aggregate $614,000.

The elementary district bonding limit is $1,275,000 and that of the high school district is $1,355,000, so that there is at present an unused bonding capacity of $631,000 for the elementary district and $741,000 for the high school district.

Bond limits are based upon five per cent of assessed valuations, which are $25,513,235 for the elementary district and $27,113,600 for the high school district.

Interest and redemption payments during the last fiscal year amounted to $55,000 principal and approximately $112,000 interest on elementary bonds, making a total of $167,000 for that district, and $46,000 principal and $32,350 interest on high school bonds, making a total of $78,350 for that district. The combined totals were $245,350, approximately.

FIREARMS TALK IS HEARD BY OFFICERS

The Orange County Peace Officers' association held its September meeting last night at the city hall in Sunset Beach, the business meeting being short and much of the evening given over to entertainment.

Walker's Night orchestra furnished the music for the evening, a pirate's reading was given by Jean Louise Sutherland and Patsy McMillan, a vocal duet by Mrs. James Sutherland and Mrs. Ervin Glenn and a solo by Mrs. Sutherland.

The speaker for the evening was Dr. Roy Horton, Santa Ana, who exhibited a valuable display of firearms, explaining their history.

Logan Jackson, sheriff, president of the association, presided, announced today by Harry L. Hanson, general chairman of the campaign. Every leader who is taking part in the campaign was asked to be sure to attend this meeting.

FELLOW PILOTS PAY TRIBUTE TO BURLEW IN AIR MANEUVER

Funeral services for Fred N. Burlew, 23, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Burlew, who was killed in a plane crash at Van Nuys Sunday night, were held this afternoon at the Smith and Tutthill funeral parlors, with fellow pilots of the Santa Ana aviator honoring him with special air maneuvers.

As the services ended six planes, piloted by Santa Ana aviators, gave their brother flyer the pilot's farewell, flying over the funeral parlors, and then accompanying the funeral procession out to the Fairhaven mausoleum, where they dipped in somber salute to a passing buddy of the air.

An unusually large crowd of friends and acquaintances of young Burlew gathered at the funeral parlors to pay last respects to a Santa Ana youth who was born and raised in Santa Ana. He learned to fly at the Eddie Martin Airport on South Main street, and one of the most attractive of all the scores of floral offerings was a wreath from the Eddie Martin Pilot's association, an organization of young flyers who received their training at the local airport.

The Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here officiated at the services. Services at the mausoleum were of a private nature.

The pilots in charge of planes in the funeral cortege were: Calvin Lambert, Bob Jeffrey, Bill Cheney, Burr J. Chandler, Dale Decker and Ralph Mitchell.

SUES JUSTICE TO SET ASIDE DEBT RULING

Suit was filed in superior court today by Claude Vorhies, Anaheim, against the Anaheim justice court and Charles Kuechel, as judge of the court, asking a writ of mandamus setting aside a verdict rendered on July 16 against Vorhies.

Vorhies, who was defendant in an action brought by the collection agency of A. A. and J. H. Apling, for $107.85 due on materials and equipment furnished him by the Fuller Brush company, contended at the time of the trial that the suit had not been brought within the legal limit of three years, as intention had been filed on July 1, 1931.

The judge overruled his objection, giving the verdict to the plaintiffs, and ordering payment of the sum. Vorhies and his attorney, T. Paul Moody, are suing to obtain a dismissal of the verdict.

ARREST GIRLS ON VAGRANCY CHARGE

Found loitering on the highway near Santa Ana last night, two girls who declared they were from Cherry, Minn., were arrested by Lloyd Groover, California Highway patrol officer.

The officer brought the girls to the county jail where they were booked for vagrancy. They have not been given a hearing.

They gave the names of Florence Sterlie, 22, and Carole Margo, 22.

WIFE OF REV. BENTON DIES AT CRESCENTA

Mrs. Kate M. Benton, wife of the Rev. W. L. H. Benton, well-known former Santa Ana clergyman, died suddenly yesterday at their home in La Crescenta, following a heart attack.

The Rev. Mr. Benton, who has been an invalid for some time, was for 12 years rector of the Episcopal Church of the Messiah, in Santa Ana.

The couple had lived in La Crescenta, where the Rev. Mr. Benton went as rector of the St. Luke's of the Mountains Episcopal church, for the past seven years. The Rev. Mr. Benton is at the present time rector emeritus of the La Crescenta church.

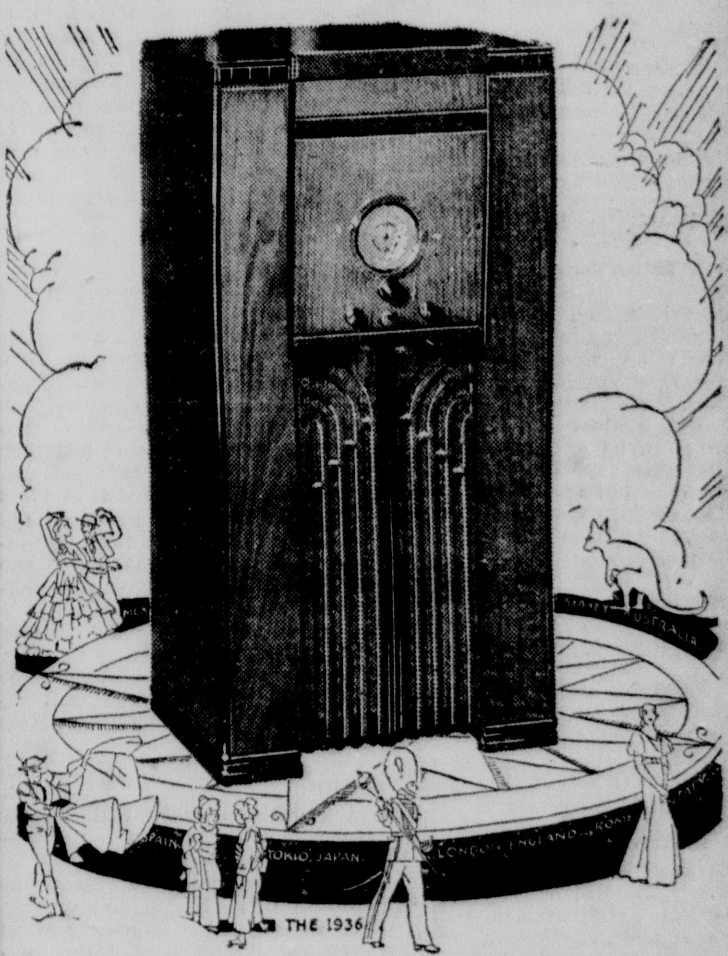

Funeral services will be conducted from the St. Luke's of the Mountains church, at a date not yet set. Interment, as wished by Mrs. Benton, will be in Santa Ana.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Kate, of Van Nuys, and a step-daughter, Jeanne Battersby, at home.

WASHINGTON

HI-PRESSURE

These rumors have been floating around, suggesting that the administration may undertake further devaluation or at least stage a silver-buying spree, now that Congress is out of the way. These apparently emanate from the boom boys, that assorted group of monetary inflationists which has not been active lately. Every once in a while they burst forth with an inside pressure drive on the administration. From private letters they have been writing to officials during the last few days, it seems they are nearing the bursting point again.

There is not a grain of chance that their hopelessly circulated gold-silver rumors will stir up any action. The New Dealers may continue to act mysteriously in public about their monetary intentions, but their minds appear to be definitely made up, at least as far as the next few months are concerned.

FUTILITY

Those who advise the highest officials, consider that further devaluation now would be like trying to collect rainwater in a straw hat. You could do it, and you would attract some attention doing it, but it would not accomplish any real purpose.

All the last devaluation accomplished was a tremendous increase in imports of gold. Last year these amounted to a billion dollars, roughly. This year they are higher. During the first six months they amounted to $700,000,000. They will reach a billion and a half before the year-end.

As far as commodity prices are concerned, nothing was accomplished, except in respect to those few prices which are fixed in the world market.

Stabilization is impossible in view of the European situation, but devaluation would make it even more impossible. Therefore you may be reasonably confident that the monetary situation will remain right where it is for the excellent reason that the administration cannot figure out any other good place to take it.

GLITTER

The silver auxiliary of the boom boys is planning some high notes, which you may hear shortly. The Senate committee appointed to investigate the silver policy is supposed to be angling for a rapid New York silver promoter as official or unofficial adviser. He is a man of whom his friends say admiringly that he "made a million dollars" out of silver since the depression, which may or may not be true.

Senator Pittman is chairman of the investigators. He is also the biggest inside influence in the silver policy. Thus you may confidently anticipate that the investigation will only add glitter to the silver program, no matter who becomes its adviser.

The Treasury lately has been buying silver on a price rather than a volume basis. That is, it is not attempting to bid up the market, but to absorb whatever volume is available at the cheapest reasonable price.

This buying policy is expected to continue while the Pittman committee merely justifies the buying program.

RESENTMENT

The inside on Father Coughlin's latest fulmination against the administration is supposed to be that he feels he was double-crossed on the new banking bill. He had expected the administration to hold out against the Glass version. Also, he expected more administration support for the Fraser-Lemke bill and therefore was willing to keep quiet, until it was too late. At least this is the explanation offered by his friends here who would not knowingly misrepresent him.

Despite this, and all that has been said lately, it is at least a 5 to 1 wager that he will be on the Roosevelt side in the end. There are reasons.

RECORD

President Roosevelt has established himself as a veto president. He has turned down 113 bills passed by Congress so far in his presidential career. Coolidge vetoed only 48 bills, and Hoover 23. Yet the President has escaped public notice as a vetoer, principally because nearly all the bills he has turned down are small private claims bills. These do not attract public attention, but they are dear to a congressman's heart. Also dear to Washington lawyers trying to collect small claims on a contingent fee basis.

Congress has over-ridden but one Roosevelt veto—the independent offices appropriation bill containing the cuts on veterans' allowances (most of which have now been restored).

NOTICE

An anti-Huey Long section has been unofficially added lately to the digest of editorial comment prepared by the Democratic National committee. A recent issue carried half a dozen editorials ridiculing Long's presidential aspirations and assailing his filibuster against the deficiency appropriation bill. This is more notice than Huey has ever received before from the D. N. C.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

FANCY

The absence of coherent Republican leadership to date fails to disturb backstage party circles in New York. They have it figured out that the absence of an outstanding candidate for '36 and of a definite platform is more helpful than otherwise at present. This state of affairs leaves the Democrats without a target for counter-attack when GOP spokesmen blast away at the New Deal.

If these backstage players have their way the various boomlets for

Knox, Borah, Vandenberg, Landon and others will all be encouraged to flourish between now and next summer—so that no one candidate piles up too big a lead over his competitors and comes into the '36 convention with a clear majority of delegates. A free-for-all of that type would create a situation favorable to hand-picking a safe and sane candidate (like Harding in 1920) in order to break a deadlock.

This would also prevent the Democrats from focusing their fire on the one possible minute. As one GOP strategist puts it: "It would take a mighty fancy aim to hit both Borah and Knox with the same shot."

INFLATION

There hasn't been much talk about inflation lately—but keen financial sources are confident it is coming next year—though probably not in any such obvious form as further devaluation or the printing press.

The prophecy is based on political exigencies. Administration leaders in Congress—in order to prevent a revival of veterans' bonus agitation from making a worse snarl of the closing days of the recent session—had to agree to give the bonus a clear track to a vote at the session beginning next January. Insiders also understand that a similar agreement was a factor in inducing wheat and cotton senators to call off their last-minute fight for 90-cent and 15-cent loans.

This means that both these issues will hit the headline again in January. Both will grow in popularity among congressmen between now and then and will have the added impetus of election year to help push them through. Astute observers doubt that a veto can stop either of them. Together they represent an abrupt addition of more than three billion dollars to the public debt. This takes no account of further relief appropriations that will probably be needed. Put these together and you have strong indications of forthcoming inflation to the nth degree—whether the president wills it or no.

BUDGET

Secretary Morgenthau is quietly stepping out on something more than the president's messenger boy. The administration's decision to play up economy moves is a belated concession to the secretary of the treasury and his unobtrusive financial aide, Under Secretary Thomas Jefferson Coolidge.

Mr. Morgenthau has pleaded for a curtailment of expenditures behind the scenes of every cabinet and council meeting. Mr. Coolidge, a conservative Bostonian, has reinforced these arguments at daily staff meetings at the treasury. Although loyal Rooseveltians, both have been appalled at the mounting deficits and the increase in the national debt.

Nobody puts much stock in predictions that the budget will be balanced in any specific year. Insiders expect that it will be the added force before revenue will match total outgo, no matter who becomes president in 1936 or 1940. But Messrs. Morgenthau and Coolidge rule many New Dealers with their demand that they make a start now.

ISSUE

Republicans who are out to win, regardless of the man to be chosen to break Roosevelt, are trying to hold back the enthusiasts until issues are better defined. They calculate that court decisions will demolish much of Roosevelt's program; that thereupon Roosevelt will tell the country that his program would have saved it and that he must be granted power to put his program through. If this situation develops a "real issue" will be drawn: Roosevelt vs. the Constitution.

Many GOP politicians think that Col. Frank Knox is going too fast. They regard him as promising material and they don't want to see him whipped out before the actual fighting begins.

BARKS

Closely friends insist that Senator Borah will angle for the Republican presidential nomination. Before he left for home the Mahon defined the kind of man the GOP must nominate against President Roosevelt—and the definition fitted nobody but the senator himself. He said: "If my party nominates the right kind of man, if they nominate somebody in whom the people have confidence as free from the control of the interests, he will be elected. They won't care whether he is a Republican, Democrat or Progressive, and there will be the greatest smashing of party lines in American political history."

There are even more subtle signs that the senator is willing—at last. Although the leading sponsor of Russian recognition he has not whispered against the administration's threat to cut off relations. He supported inflation measures which, according to his private polls, are popular in the west. And since he cast his first vote for Bryan in 1896 he has always been a sound money man. Watch Mr. Borah!

ADVICE

New York takes FDR's approval of the pension bill for Spanish-American war veterans as evidence that he is listening attentively to the politically-minded advisers. The president is known to have been as opposed to that bill in principle as he is to the bonus. But he signed it without a quiver—and it looks as if Cactus Jack Garner's counsel had more than a little to do with it.

BOARD PASSES NEW ORDINANCE ON FIRE ZONES

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 5.—The city council held a half hour session last night, with Councilman John H. Marion acting as mayor, in the absence of Mayor Tom Talbert, who was called out of the city on business. The salary list and bills for the month of August was allowed and the reports of department heads submitted.

C. R. Carr, city clerk, in explaining the financial statement which showed most of the various city funds to be overdrawn, stated that the taxes collected had not yet been appropriated to the various funds. The delay was because of the fact that the council had not adopted the tax rate until Tuesday night.

The taxes will be apportioned this week and the funds balanced. The new fire ordinance fixing three fire zones to cover the entire city was adopted on first reading. The ordinance provides for the character of buildings in the various fire zones and is in uniformity with the codes generally in effect in California municipalities.

The council adjourned to meet September 16 at 7:30 p. m.

COUNCIL CUTS BREA TAX RATE FOR NEW YEAR

BREA, Sept. 5.—Brea city councilmen, sitting in regular session, Wednesday night fixed the tax rate for the city of Brea for the fiscal year at $1.70, 17 cents lower than that of last year on approximately the same assessed valuation of $1,859,145.

Seven cents of this cut came from the general fund rate which last year was 77 cents and the remaining 10 cents was shaved from various bond rates.

The allocation of the present rate is as follows: General fund, 70 cents; 1920 water bonds, 27 cents; 1921 water bonds, 14 1/2 cents; sewer bonds, 21 cents; city hall bonds, 8 cents; city park bonds, 14 1/2 cents; park completion bonds, 5 cents; 1915 act redemption bonds, 10 cents.

Mayor L. A. Hogue, presiding, and the remainder of the council, expressed confidence that they would be able to manage through the general fund will be lessened by this cut. It was pointed out that the streets of the city are in better condition as a whole than they have been in for some time and that not much expenditure in that line is anticipated during the coming year.

Insurance on the city's fleet of cars and trucks was renewed with the W. A. Culp agency. Fire Chief Al Cone was asked to submit an estimate of the cost of a canvas cover for the hose truck. Street Superintendent Fred Boxall submitted an estimate of $206 for installing another row of tables, laying the concrete floor under them and roofing them, an exact duplicate of the tables now in the picnic grounds. He reported that the big barbecue pit recently added to the cooking units in the park has been completed. It was built by George Wade.

The council took action to close the plunge September 9, the day before the opening of school. They expressed satisfaction over the management of the plunge for the summer.

SQUABBLE ON TAX STAMPS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 5.—(UP)—Responsibility for any loss of revenue which may result from delay in approving a contract for new liquor stamps must be accepted by finance director A. E. Stockburger, Elwood Squires, assistant secretary of the state board of equalization, said yesterday.

Stockburger refused to approve a contract between the board and the American Distillers company of Chicago to supply 150,000,000 liquor excise stamps for $107,250. The director held up the contract because California firms had submitted lower bids for the stamps.

ASKS BUSINESS TAKE INTEREST IN GOVERNMENT

Telling members of the Santa Lions club that the average business man did not apply the same tactics in selecting elected officers that he did in selecting his own employees for his business, A. I. Stewart of Pasadena, president of the California League of Municipalities, and former president of the Associated Chamber of Commerce in Orange county, urged the business man to pay more attention to the government, at the club's regular luncheon today.

He declared that the apathy, shown towards government would lead to only one thing, the relieving of the government from those that it governs, and pointed to the picture in Louisiana, declaring that the feeling that "nothing can happen to this country because the people are too patriotic" was foolish, that it already had happened in that state.

Mr. Stewart declared that the average business man does not contribute to government. He inherited all that he has today and is doing nothing to keep that inheritance, he declared. He declared that the government was his silent partner, and that instead of being a partner with the government, the average man did not trouble himself to ask questions when things appeared to be wrong, but continued to elect men to office without concerning himself about their qualifications. He declared the business man would not do this in his own business, and asked why do it in selecting men for the government?

Too many business men lend a willing ear to criticisms in government, but never do anything about it, he declared.

Burr Shaffer had charge of the Lions' program today. Jack Wallace will be in charge next week.

MESA CLUB HEARS C. OF C. SECRETARY

COSTA MESA, Sept. 5.—Harry Welch, secretary of the Newport Harbor chamber of commerce, was the speaker at the local Lions club session Tuesday evening reviewing the annual Star Boat races, and the annual Tournament of Lights. Welch said that because of the championship being won by H. F. "Hook" Beardslee, representative of the Newport harbor fleet, the races will be held here again next year. He stated plans are being made to hold the 1935 Blue Star regatta and the Southern California regatta at Newport harbor.

The speaker announced that arrangements are to begin for next year's Tournament of Lights soon after the first of the new year, pointing out that the dredging now going on in the bay will be finished and conditions in general will be the best ever for a fine lights fleet. The Lions club voiced its intention of putting a float in the parade next year. Dr. C. G. Huston acted as program chairman for the day. Huston announced that preliminary arrangements are being made for the Christmas lighting program along the Orange county coast line.

Guests were Harry Welch, C. W. Harrison, president of the Santa Ana Lions club; Don McCollum, of Hollywood; Glen C. Moore and Dr. W. L. Covault.

Morris Crawley, program chairman, stated that a speaker is being arranged for next week's meeting.

BOSWELL TRIO FEATURED IN DODGE REVUE

The most famous of "sister" trios, the Boswells, will be featured with the music of Victor Young's orchestra in tonight's presentation of the "Dodge All Star Revue" on KREG at 6:45.

The smooth rhythm number, "Travelin'", and the popular tune "Way Back Home," harmonized as only the Boswell sisters can harmonize, will be included. Young's orchestra will play a medley of Jerome-Kern tunes including "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," "They Wouldn't Believe Me" and others. "Sweet Madness" will also be offered by the orchestra.

In addition to the musical presentation, a brief but dramatic demonstration of the ruggedness of an automobile that was pushed over a cliff—and then driven away under its own power will be re-enacted.

The "Dodge All Star Revue," scheduled every Thursday at the same hour, is a presentation of the L. D. Coffing company in Santa Ana.

Dancing Diva

Teaching a grand opera singer a "hot" dance number sounds like a difficult job. But Instructor Hermes Pan, RKO dance director, and Pupil Lily Pons, French soprano, say it's all very easy. One opera singer who isn't of the "two pounds less than an elephant" type, Miss Pons is learning the steps with the ease of a veteran Hollywood chorus girl, Pan says.

COUNTY PLACES UTOPIAN GROUP HIGH IN STATE WILL FURTHER FAIR AWARDS WORK TONIGHT

Orange county tied with nine other counties of California in winning special trophies of equal value for the most complete representation of county resources, in its exhibit at the California state fair in Sacramento yesterday.

Orange county also took second place in the awards for citrus display, Ventura county again winning first place. Ventura previously had won first award for avocados, Orange and Santa Barbara counties being tied for second place.

The nine counties tied with Orange county for most complete representation of resources were Ventura, San Joaquin, Santa Cruz, Placer, Contra Costa, Yolo, Humboldt, Sutter and Solano.

San Joaquin county made a notable record by winning six of the eight sweepstakes awards for agricultural products, and taking second place in the other two.

Re-establishing of the Utopian Society in Orange county is the program to be offered members of the order this evening at a called meeting to be held at 1626 South Main street, according to word from Los Angeles. Speakers from Southern California headquarters are expected to outline the program of activities and also to report on the recent merger of the eastern and western branches of the society.

J. Bennett, who is known to many Santa Anans, will be one of the speakers. He will be accompanied by R. L. Jones. Invitations have been issued to all parts of the county where the society has been active.

During the period when the Utopia society was being formed, several thousand persons took the cycle work, according to the records of the order, with about 1000 having been inducted into the society in Santa Ana.

The purpose of the meeting tonight is to recapture the enthusiasm which attended earlier efforts, and to formulate a program which will make the society a force for the economic and other ideals which are its principles, it was announced.

Beach Group To Arrange Service

The Young People's club of Christ Church By the Sea will have charge of the young people's services in the Methodist church, South, in Santa Ana Sunday evening for the hour 5:30 o'clock to 6:30, according to an announcement by Denton Mosher, president of the organization. The theme of the program will be "The Book of Daniel."

Assisting Mosher with the program arrangement will be Fred Pinkston and Allen Foltz. Mr. and Mrs. George Sherry will be in charge of the music. Mr. Sherry with the violin, accompanied by Mrs. Sherry on the piano, will give several instrumental numbers.

Orange County Business And Crops Show Large Gain

PERMITS FOR BUILDING SHOW HUGE INCREASE

Records for the first six months of 1935 show a decided pick-up in Orange county and Santa Ana business conditions, a survey today revealed.

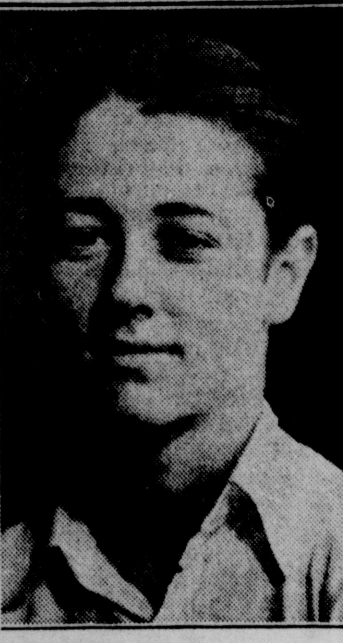

For the first half of the year building permits showed a 340 per cent increase over a similar period in 1934, from $162,486 to $715,023. For the single month of July, 1935, Santa Ana building permits totaled $34,602, a 241 per cent increase over the July, 1934 figure of $10,141.

The Valencia orange crop was large and the quality good, only unsatisfactory prices keeping the citrus year from being a banner one. Warm weather in the east has resulted in some recent improvement, it was revealed. Lemon prices also have been greatly improved, due to eastern weather conditions, and also to increased foreign shipments.

In the field crop division the lima bean crop is in good condition, and present prospects are for a heavy yield. Harvesting of sugar beets is now in progress, with about 1500 men at work in the fields. In addition to the 400 employed in the local beet sugar plant.

HIGH IN RACE

Robert Newton, city Register carrier shown below, is in second place in the current "clothes for school" contest, with 177,000 votes. Donald Oliphant is leading the race for the $50 clothes prize offered by the Register and Hugh J. Lowe, clothiers, with 199,000 votes. The contest, in which 36 prizes are offered, closes on September 14.

VIEWS OF RUSSIA CHANGE AFTER VISIT TO SOVIET, SANTA ANANS SAY ON RETURN TO THEIR HOMES

BY ELEANOR ELLIOTT

Kaleidoscopic impressions, in which the dark colors overshadow the bright, remain to Mr. and Mrs. Calvin C. Flint, 1117 North Broadway, an outstanding experience of the summer abroad from which they returned Tuesday to Santa Ana.

Sailing from New York on the "Normandie," famous French liner which holds the blue ribbon for speed, Mr. and Mrs. Flint had plans for the summer which included a survey of the youth movement in Germany. But while in the mid-Atlantic they were moved to change their plans when opportunity offered to visit Russia as members of one of the Intourist parties.

Approach to Russia was leisurely, as the Santa Anans lingered for a fortnight in rural England after landing at Plymouth, then spent some time in Berlin and the famous "Free City" of Danzig. A valuable opportunity for contrasting conditions in Soviet Russia with those which prevailed under the czaristic regime, came with their tour of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, capitalistic cities not greatly changed from the days when they flourished under the Czar.

Discusses Trip

"Comparing them with the cities of Soviet Russia, we reached the conclusion that Russia would have been capable of advancing as readily under capitalist rule as under the Soviet, had proper leadership arisen," today declared Mrs. Flint in discussing the trip.

"We found that we had to change our views regarding communism. For there is no communism as such in Russia. The Communist party has limited its membership to such an extent that today, instead of being a dictatorship for the proletariat, it is a dictatorship for the party alone," she declared. One outstanding result of membership in this party however, was seen in the fact that such members were among those with preferable and higher paid positions, and also were noticeably relieved of the fear which seems to hover over Russia, of possibly being considered anti-government.

"Contrary to what we had been led to expect, we found no actual hunger in Russia, and absolutely no unemployment," Mrs. Flint continued. "Food is not diversified, and perhaps many of the people may be forced to live on bread alone—but such as it is, there is plenty of it. Employment is general since there are such countless government building projects under way and no one need go without work."

Private Ownership

There are no limits to private ownership of property, according to the returned travelers. However, property as such may not be used for personal advantage in making money.

Advance of cultural attainments is stressed above all things else, they found, and among various professions, none has more importance attached to it than the stage. The argument is that actors reach so many classes and individuals that their work is considered an invaluable factor in establishing the morale of the nation. In this development of culture, racial customs are conserved and developed.

An unusually interesting experience which befell the Santa Ana travelers was that of attending a session of the court in Kiev, comparable to our own supreme court. Some 30 men were arraigned for the theft of eight million rubles, and Mr. and Mrs. Flint heard the case against one who was supposed to be the guilty, because he was planning to devote the proceeds of his crime, to work against the state. The crime was not the theft of the large sum of money, but machinations against the government. So the one man was judged guilty and was executed, while others in the group who had expected to devote the money only to their own personal gratification, received five years in prison at Voshovo. The prison sentence carries no disgrace, and prison conditions are so superior to general living conditions elsewhere, that frequently men are eager to return, a condition that is not exactly a deterrent to crime, as the Santa Anans see it.

Off Beaten Path

While Mr. and Mrs. Flint followed the Intourist route to certain specified cities, they were fortunate in getting off the beaten path when they went to the ancient Tartar capital of Kazan. Accommodations were most primitive, but they had glimpses of a life far removed from anything they encountered elsewhere, as they did on the strictly Russian boat by which they sailed down the Volga in leaving Kazan, and where they saw class distinction in its most noticeable form.

They entered Russia at Leningrad, visited Moscow and Gorki (formerly Nijni-Novgorod) and left via Kiev for five days in Poland. Again they were impressed by sharp contrasts, for Poland, although relatively poverty stricken, had almost American enterprise, especially noticeable in merchandise displays.

Asked about the religious state of Russia, Mrs. Flint said there were many churches open as anti-religious exhibits exposing the superstitions which had demoralized the Russian church. Also in the Caucasus regions, they found churches actually opened for religious service. They were attended mainly by old people, since the anti-religious wave is resistless among the younger Russians, and where inclination might lead young people to attend, fear would deter them.

Mr. and Mrs. Flint returned to New York City on the Ile de France, arriving August 27, and drove across the continent on

OBSERVE 57TH WEDDING DATE WITH DINNER

Celebrations in which Mr. and Mrs. Asa Vanderkast have participated during the past few weeks reached a happy climax yesterday, 57 years after their wedding September 4 in Newton, Ia. Since that day in 1878, the Vanderkasts have taken prominent part in civic and social activities in whatever community their interests have centered.

Opening their first store in Tella, Ia., the Vanderkasts lived there and in other Middlewestern points up until 32 years ago, when they came to Santa Ana. The annual picnic of Vanderkast Inc., the 53rd birthday of Asa Vanderkast, and now the wedding anniversary, have taken place within a short time. Each of the three occasions has brought together close relatives, several of whom assembled last night for a surprise party in honor of the couple.

The affair was held in the gardens of the W. B. McConnell home, 1218 Orange avenue, with store employees joining the family group for a picnic dinner. It marked the sixty-fourth year of selling goods for Asa Vanderkast.

Mr. and Mrs. Vanderkast's daughter, two sons and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prince, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Vanderkast and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vanderkast had planned the event. Others in the group were the Asa Vanderkast's grandson, Newell Vanderkast, and P. E. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Spicer and son, Barney, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stein and children, Marcelle and Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fischer, Mrs. Chauncey Bates and daughters, Beryl and Janet; Mr. and Mrs. Park Atwood, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Minnix and son, Bobbie; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McConnell and grandson, Billie McConnell, with the honored couple, the Asa Vanderkasts. Two of their grandsons, Kenneth Prince and Louis Vanderkast, were unable to be present.

Last night's celebration was one of many surprise parties which have marked Mr. and Mrs. Vanderkast's anniversaries throughout the years. Their golden wedding day was spent in Paris, France, in company with Mrs. Vanderkast's brother, John Newell Jr., of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Robert E. Coulter, of Santa Ana, during a five months' tour of Europe. An elaborate hotel dinner and a cablegram from the couple's daughter and sons in this city, came as surprises to Mr. and Mrs. Vanderkast.

The wedding of Miss Abbie Newell to Mr. Asa Vanderkast, took place at high noon in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Newell in Newton, Ia., with 250 guests in attendance. The bride-

SET MEDICAL MEET FOR SEPTEMBER 17

The regular monthly meeting of the Orange County Medical association scheduled for Tuesday night was postponed for two weeks as a mark of sympathy for Dr. J. M. Burlew, whose son was killed in an airplane crash Sunday in Burbank.

Dr. John J. Montanus will be the speaker at the September 17 meeting, discussing "Cancer of the Breast With Special Reference to Prognosis and Grading of Tumors." Several membership applications will be acted upon at that time. It was announced by Dr. Waldo S. Wehrly, secretary-treasurer.

FEDERAL FUNDS FOR STUDENTS NOW AVAILABLE

Funds for FERA work for students at Santa Ana Junior college will be available again this year under the National Youth administration, according to Calvin Flint, dean of men, who will be in charge of the project this year.

Students will be given jobs whereby they may earn from $5 to $20 per month according to the hours put in. Jobs will be assigned on the basis of the need of the student, to help those who cannot secure a college education without assistance. The project at the jaycee is under the auspices of the NYA, a federal government enterprise to assist needy students between the ages of 16 and 26, said Dean Flint.

Applications for work will be received at the junior college office beginning Monday, Sept. 9. All will be classified at the same time by a committee of SERA investigators. Students will be given work as long as they do "C" average work. No discrimination is made against students from outside Santa Ana.

Dean Flint will be assisted by Mrs. Eleanor Northcross, dean of women.

Birthday Honors Paid By Dinner Hostess To Her Mother

Making a happy occasion indeed of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Lena Lankford, her son-in-law and daughter, Mrs. E. A. Noe, 414 Mabury street, entertained at a family dinner on the evening of Labor day, which coincided with Mrs. Lankford's seventy-ninth birthday.

The day was made especially festive for the honoree, by the many flowers which interested friends and neighbors showered on her from time to time.

There was also an unusual number of pretty cards and greetings from old friends in her former home, Matetta, Ohio.

At the dinner hour, Mrs. Noe seated her guests at a table decorated with Cecyl Brunner roses for the serving of the appetizing menu. With the dessert course was produced a beautifully decorated cake for Mrs. Lankford to cut, after she had extinguished its candles, suggesting in their arrangement the number 79.

Covers were laid for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Noe, their son, James Noe, Mrs. Lankford, the honor guest, her other daughter, Mrs. Agnes Dowling of this city, Miss Martha Dowling and Mrs. Harry M. Smith.

Golden Wedding Couple Hold Open House Affair

Continuing a celebration of their golden wedding anniversary which began Sunday with a family party in Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Nelson were hosts Tuesday afternoon at an open house affair in their home, 1611 West Second street. Their daughters, Mrs. Walter Pollard of Tustin and Mrs. J. C. Smith of Redlands, had arranged the second gathering, which was attended by 75 relatives and close friends from all over the Southland.

Several of the guests were from the congregation of First Baptist church, in which Mr. and Mrs. Nelson hold membership. The many flowers brightening rooms of the home were among gifts received by the anniversary celebrants. Letters and cards of greeting were sent to them by relatives and friends living in the east.

The Nelsons came to Southern California from Huntington, Ark., in 1909 and have lived in Santa Ana all but four years of that time. The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Clift, a native of Tennessee, and Mr. Nelson, a native of Arkansas, occurred September 3, 1885, near the latter's birthplace, Huntington, Ark.

Mrs. Pollard and Mrs. Smith, daughters, and Robert C. Nelson, of Redlands, a son, comprise the immediate family of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson. Another son, the late Lonnie Nelson, was a resident of Santa Ana.

Mr. Nelson maintains a shoe repair shop in this city, and is able to do his own work.

FLUSH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys should empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S FILLS, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. Get Doan's.

A PROJECT AS BIG AS THE PANAMA CANAL

RIGHT IN YOUR OWN BACK YARD

THERE IS NO Panama Canal in Southern California but there is an equally great—if not as well known—achievement rivaling it in bigness of conception, cost of execution and contribution to industrial development.

In order to supply Central and Southern California with low-cost electrical power, the citizens who compose the Edison Company completed several almost unbelievable engineering feats. An army of thousands of men marched into the mountains and harnessed the waters of the High Sierras. At times as many as 8,000 men were employed. In one instance they worked years, blasting a tunnel through more than 13 miles of virgin granite.

Instead of locks, they built huge dams; and erected 5 hydro-electric power plants—to serve the millions living in this territory. The result of the combined effort of thousands of California workers and investors is economical power—flowing constantly, day and night—to light a single lamp or turn the wheels of the largest factory.

Course Doty was embarrassed. She exclaimed, "Oh, kindly pardon me. I meant to lasso that small steer, but it raced right away."

"The next time, I'm sure I'll improve. Get me a steer that will not move. 'Twill make the task real easy, if in one spot it will stay."

The cowboy who had been roped said, "Why, when your rope dropped over my head, it really took me by surprise, but it is quite all right."

"You need a bit of practice, miss, and then you won't pull tricks like this. I guess I should have followed that small steer right out of sight."

"Now, I am going to show you how to make sure of your catch, right now. Here comes another steer. 'Till catch him by the left hind leg."

And then he gave the rope a fling and promptly did that very thing. "Hurray for you," was Doty cried. "That was a perfect peg."

And then she practiced for a while and soon her face spread in a smile when she, too, roped a racing beast and flopped it to the ground.

She promptly helped it to its feet, as someone shouted, "That was neat. From now on, when you have that rope, I won't feel safe and sound."

A bucking bronco then was brought before the bunch. "I think you ought to try and ride him, Duncy," said a cowboy, with a grin.

"If you are game, hang on real tight. He'll shake you, lad, with all his might. Why, when you hop off to the ground, you won't know where you've been."

"Aw, I'm not scared," was Duncy roared. "Come on, someone help me aboard." A cowboy put him on the bronco and started yelling, "Yip."

This scared the beast. It jumped around. Poor Duncy hung on tight, and frowned. Then, as he bounced up high, he thought that to the ground he'd slip.

IN a beautiful square at Newburgh, N. Y., stands the famous old Mansion House of Jonathan Hasbrouck, where, on April 18, 1783, Gen. George Washington signed the proclamation ordering cessation of hostilities between the United States and Great Britain. Here Washington maintained his headquarters from April 1, 1783, to Aug. 18, 1783. Here, too, Col. Lewis Nicola tendered the great general the crown as king of the United States, and Washington refused it.

Finally, it was here that Washington wrote his famous address to his officers in which he outlined the principles upon which the new government was to endure.

On the 150th anniversary of Washington's peace proclamation, the United States issued a commemorative stamp, which had its first day of sale, April 19, 1933, at Newburgh.

Laguna To Hold Election On Breakwater, Pier

OFFICIALS SEEK U. S. FUNDS FOR IMPROVEMENTS

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 5.—Definite action looking toward construction of a breakwater and pier, at an estimated cost of $100,000, was taken last night at the city council meeting when City Attorney Milburn Harvey was instructed to prepare proceedings for the calling of a bond election.

Of the total expense involved, it is proposed to raise $55,000 locally, by means of a bond issue, with $45,000 supplied by the federal government. An application for a federal grant in that amount was filed yesterday at the Los Angeles office of the Public Works administration.

According to preliminary plans submitted to the federal government, it is proposed to spend $57,375 on the first unit of a breakwater, and $33,000 on pier construction. The remainder of the amount, City Engineer Arthur J. Stead explained, would be needed for cost of proceedings, incidentals and like expenses. He thought it would be well, however, to ascertain the general sentiment among the voters as to whether they wanted the entire amount to be used for pier construction, or part for a pier and part for a breakwater.

Stead also reported that applications for 45 per cent federal aid had been filed for two other improvement projects, aggregating $145,000. One of these, he added, was for sanitary lateral sewer district No. 2, at an estimated cost of $89,000, and the other for sanitary lateral district No. 3, at an estimated cost of $45,000.

Contract for the city's public liability insurance, covering 17 motor vehicles, was awarded to Roy Peacock, local insurance broker, representing the Pacific Indemnity company, whose bid, quoting a total premium of $518.27 for two classifications, was accepted.

A considerable portion of the meeting was devoted to the matter of adjusting rates of pay for temporary and special police officers. A provision of an ordinance, prescribing a rate of 62½ cents an hour, for special officers, was repealed. The rate of pay for regular officers, with years of experience, was fixed at $150 a month. Special and temporary officers will be employed at rates of pay recommended by the chief of police and the police commissioner, subject to the approval of the council. It was thought that such officers occupying temporary status could be secured at rates ranging from $100 to $125 a month.

Musical Program Set For Tonight

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 5.—A program featuring vocal numbers by Miss Edith MacDonald, well known soprano, and selections by a string quartet will be given at tonight's regular monthly meeting of the Laguna Beach Music Lovers' club to be held at the studio of Miss Josephine Hills, 606 Glenn-eyre. Miss Sophia Rhein and Miss Lillian Newland, both well known in local musical circles, will act as hostesses.

Sewer Plant Bids Opened This Evening

SEAL BEACH, Sept. 5.—Bids for a sewage treatment plant will be opened at a regular meeting of the city council to be held tonight. Work is expected to begin shortly.

Despite a raise in salaries of all city officials the tax rate of the city was slashed, a cut of 15 cents being made, at a meeting held Tuesday night. Last year's rate was $1.40 and this year's rate will be $1.25. The reduction was made in the face of the raise of salaries and of a 23 1-2 per cent raise in the bond rate of the city occasioned by the voting of three bond issues several months ago for breakwater, sewer and water purposes.

The reduction in the tax rate was made possible by the addition of $4,788,000 to the city's assessment rolls, this sum representing the public utility holdings in the city. Assessed valuations in the city were raised from $2,741,265 to $7,529,265.

The salary of the chief of police was raised from $175 to $190 and all other police officers' salaries were raised from $160 to $165. The city tax collector, assessor, building inspector, and deputy clerk will receive $200 instead of $150 and the additional salary will be used in clerical help. Truck drivers will receive $4.50 instead of $4, laborers $3.75 instead of $3.20. Roy Thomas was appointed as labor foreman at a salary of $140, the position being a new office. A music and promotion fund was established.

Stead also reported that applications for 45 per cent federal aid had been filed for two other improvement projects, aggregating $145,000. One of these, he added, was for sanitary lateral sewer district No. 2, at an estimated cost of $89,000, and the other for sanitary lateral district No. 3, at an estimated cost of $45,000.

TUSTIN SCHOOL REGISTRATION IS UNDER WAY

TUSTIN, Sept. 5.—With the opening of Tustin Union High school scheduled for September 10, manuals were mailed to prospective students this week, according to Clarence Bowman, office secretary. Registration opened today and will continue tomorrow from 8 a. m. to noon and from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m.

No busses will run until the first day of school, Tuesday, September 10. The busses will operate on the same routes but 10 minutes earlier than in previous years. Three busses, one for El Toro students, one carrying Irvine passengers, with the third bus making two trips, for Lemon Heights and Seventeenth street territory, will be in operation.

The school day will begin at 8:20 in the morning instead of 8:30 o'clock, this being made necessary by the change of class periods from eight 40-minute periods to six one-hour periods, with the noon hour falling at 11:20 o'clock, and the dismissal hour of 3 p. m. remaining the same.

The six-period day, followed in most Orange county high schools, is being tried in Tustin this year for 20 minutes of every hour will enable the teachers to give individual help and explanation to students finding difficulty in a particular subject, it was pointed out. The length of recitation will remain the same.

HUEY LONG GETS A SETBACK

Mississippi has turned down Huey Long's candidate for governor in the "run-off" primary for the Democratic nomination which is equal to election in that Southern state.

U. S. Senator Bilbo, who two years ago was elected on a platform promise that he would "raise more hell in Washington than the Kingfish from Louisiana ever thought of raising," gave his political endorsement to the successful candidate.

In the Senate Bilbo has scarcely said a word, but when it was announced that a Huey Long candidate was running in his state, he hustled home and unlimbered his choice vocabulary of political nonsense and billingsgate and snared more of the "hill-billy" vote than the "Kingfish" crowd could "hook."

At the conclusion of the campaign, the patriots of Mississippi hung the "Kingfish" in effigy at the sacred border of their state.

Huey was called a "fishmonger," "the biggest faker in America," and a "multi-millionaire." The last of these charges is regarded as the body blow which laid Huey on the cold and clammy "slab" of the Mississippi political "morgue."

What any campaign of vituperation and vilification has to do with national problems is hard to understand. Both Huey Long and Bilbo are able men who understand the psychology of the mob and know how to capitalize its prejudices. Had Huey Long made an extended personal campaign in Mississippi, the result might well have been different.

Perhaps Mississippi's unique manner of deciding between two men, on the basis of non-sensical political stump speeches, is as good as any. The voter should in time become a pretty good judge of political bumcombe, balderdash and entertainment, and with that as a yardstick accurately decide between the ability and sincerity of the various candidates. At all events, we would wish to attribute a bit of intelligence to the "good folks" in old Mississippi.

THE FLORIDA DISASTER

The terrible calamity to the Florida coast, causing loss of life and property, certainly has awakened the sympathy of the nation.

The killing frost of last winter was a serious matter, though not as serious as was first reported. But that did not affect human life and it left property intact.

But this terrible storm, which has swept through sections of the state and particularly along the Southeastern coast, has undoubtedly caused hundreds of deaths, has rendered many homeless, injured many whose lives were not blotted out and has done great damage to all forms of property.

It is not the first time that Florida has been swept by a serious gale, though it may be that the most serious consequences have resulted from this than from any other that Florida has sustained.

It is rather remarkable that there were not more lives lost, in the light of the character of storm that passed over them.

This tragedy challenges the nation for its support and undoubtedly there will be the most generous response. Our country has almost become accustomed to meeting great disasters and the privation and distress which accompany them.

This one will be met and the marvel of it is that in a few, short weeks we may know that our fellow countrymen down in the Florida peninsula will, with gratitude to those who have aided them, be looking forward with hope and expectation, as they are digging themselves out of their unfortunate condition.

We bespeak for every appeal that will be made for Florida the heartiest response.

DEPRESSION HAS ITS OPPORTUNITIES

In the darkest moment of the depression, when all the banks in Detroit seemed doomed to bankruptcy, the automobile manufacturers organized their own banking institution and offered the public an opportunity to subscribe for stock on the same terms.

Stock which sold in May, 1933, for $25.00 a share is now selling for $60.00 a share and earning a good rate of return at that price. Incidentally, the General Motors corporation would be able to realize a profit of $13,500,000 on its investment.

The incident demonstrates that where a real need exists, a business institution will arise to supply that need. Furthermore, it demonstrates that when conditions appear to be darkest, it is oftentimes the best time to invest, provided the investor understands the business in which he is investing.

Incidents, such as this banking institution of Detroit, can undoubtedly be multiplied many times in all lines of business, but from the record of failures in Detroit, nowhere could the future of the banking business have looked so dark.

Yet men of faith, ability and resources seem to prosper under all conditions and the losses which they must take in the course of business only spur them on.

A REMEDY FOR CONGESTION IN OUR COURTS

The law's delay is not a modern defect. Shakespeare makes Hamlet deplore it, in the play, together with a number of other social defects which makes him question the worth of living.

The congestion of cases in our courts has become one of the great problems of judicial procedure. New courts have been created, additional judges are appointed, referees are designated to hear evidence and report to the courts, but still the dockets are cluttered with cases awaiting action.

Detroit and Boston have started an attack upon the problem by establishing a pre-trial system. It provides for a conference with the judge before the case comes to formal trial.

Questions are raised at the conference as to whether both parties in the case are ready for the trial on the date assigned, whether the case might not be settled out of court, whether the issues are definite and clear, whether the calling of some witnesses is really necessary, and whether all the facts might not be stated at the very beginning.

On one day, before a Massachusetts judge, 52 cases were thus discussed in conferences, both parties being represented. Ten were settled out of court as a result, and 35 others might be settled in that way. This left only seven cases for formal and extended trial.

Detroit originated the system, and it has worked very well. But the natural dilatoriness of our judicial procedure is deeply ingrained. The tenacity with which most parties in a case hold out by delays and technical appeals is always very marked.

The fact is, when two parties carry their disagreement into the courts, they are in a tense mood, and the conciliatory spirit is usually absent. Yet, an experiment like that which has been attempted in Detroit and Boston deserves general study.

AVERAGE LIFE INSURANCE PROCEEDS NOT TAXED

Forty thousand dollars of life insurance proceeds will remain exempt from the federal estate tax as heretofore. Recent attempts to tax it have been set aside.

The proceeds of a life insurance policy of less than $40,000 are intended to take the place of the probable earnings of the deceased in the event of death.

Insofar as these proceeds are not savings, but represent the risk which the average man must face on his journey through life, these proceeds stand in a different light than a similar amount of money accumulated in a savings account.

A part of the money paid under every life insurance policy goes toward the payment of death claims due to persons who have paid considerably less than their estate receives. Other policy holders must contribute more than they receive.

The burden of supporting dependents who live off life insurance proceeds is borne by other holders of life insurance policies. For this reason, the proceeds derived from a life insurance policy stand in a different light.

The average man, who seeks only to protect his dependents and not to create an estate, should be helped in one of the finest endeavors of mankind—that of protecting one's family and loved ones.

Laguna Traffic Creates Problem

Long Beach Press-Telegram

One of the major traffic blocks on the southern section of the Coast Highway, that through the Laguna Beach business district, is to be relieved to a certain extent, at least, by the new ruling of the State that parallel parking must be put into effect on all State highways.

Unfortunately for Laguna Beach and coast traffic between Long Beach and San Diego, the Coast Highway also makes a considerable turn in the center of the Laguna Beach business district, which lies between two hills. All of these factors, coupled with the fact that Laguna Beach is one of the busiest communities along the coast these days, complicate the problem. Naturally, Laguna Beach does not want heavy traffic whizzing through its business district to endanger shoppers and others. Yet the slowly moving string of irritated motorists through that street this Summer was not pleasing, either to the city or to the drivers. Intersection regulation, on at least one intersection, may be necessary, but will not solve the problem, it is feared. Removal of angle parking will help, not because it will permit high speed, but because it will relieve congestion of through traffic occasioned when parking motorists back out into the center of the coast highway, a constantly recurring irritant on busy days.

A secondary through highway, to take coast traffic off the business street and route it along the hills which back the old townsite has been considered, but like all such projects, has met with much local opposition. In years to come this may offer the solution, just as the routing of Coast Highway traffic on State street, far north of Long Beach's main business district, has helped solve the local problem. The general principle, is that through traffic should be by-passed as much as possible to relieve it of unnecessary restriction. A corollary to this theory is that those who desire to stop in a community will take the alternate route into its business district.

Life Better in California

San Francisco Chronicle

The reason why California can raise cotton in competition with lower labor costs in the Southern States stands out in the American Cotton cooperative Association's crop estimate of August 15.

The yield in California is estimated at 490 pounds to the acre. This is more than twice the yield in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Tennessee, just twice the yield in Louisiana, and almost twice that in Virginia and South Carolina. The highest production east of the Rocky mountains is 320 pounds in Missouri and 300 in North Carolina. The has to come West to approach the California yield. New Mexico does it with 450 pounds to the acre.

Another reason for the California ability to compete is that this State raises a higher grade variety of cotton.

Life is better in California, even for cotton.

Counsel's Crime

San Diego Union

It has remained for Bruno Hauptmann's counsel to perpetrate a crime which to the best of our knowledge, has never been foreseen by the boundless ingenuity of our lawmakers—a crime which is not against the law. In alleging that the Lindbergh baby is still alive and that he can produce him in court, this lawyer commits an outrage against the sympathies of every American family—in a million households today, there must be some sense of the cruel suffering thus inflicted upon a father and mother who must carry all their lives that deep hurt at the memory of their lost baby. The nation shares that hurt, and the lawyer's ugly canard revives it.

When the statute-makers devise a name for this crime, we shall be glad to assist them in naming a penalty for it.

A PLEA FOR JUSTICE
(On seeing a cage of little penguins in a zoo.)

Some day they plan
The world to scan
From drifts of shining snow;
Or in and out
To flit about
From floe to glistening floe,
But now, caged in by iron bars,
With never let nor pause,
The eager little penguins
Are sharpening their claws.

While sunset dyes
The Northern skies
They glance first here, then there.
They never moan—
Content of mind
There's always hope
To banish dull despair,
And so, though many leagues away
From their own native sea,
The dauntless little penguins
Are planning to be free.

I trust that they
Again some day
May have a chance to roam.
And once more find
Content of mind
In their far northern home.
I'm often tempted to unloose
The bars that lock their gates;
The gallant little penguins
Deserve a better fate.

OR CAN YOU?

School will soon be open again. Can't you hear the dear little children rejoicing?

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "I FAVOR A JUST TAX." ROARED THE SENATOR, "REGARDLESS OF THE NUMBER OF VOTERS IT OFFENDS."

It's full of nicks and the point is broken off and it's more of an aggravation than a help, she said. G. ma, do you mean the paper cutter with the little bit of a hole in the top that you look through and see the big picture? I said. Gosh, ma, can I have it? I said, and ma said, Take it with my compliments.

Wich I quick jumped up and did, and pop said, What do you want it for? I have a depressing premonition that you are bent on overthrow and destruction, in other words that your secret intention is to hack the little hole apart to find out if the picture is really as big as it seems, am I right? he said.

Sir? Yes sir, I said, and pop said, I feared so. Ever since man discovered bewty he has been haunted by the urge to destroy it. The bewty of passed civilization has been battered away by prying and intruding battleaxes, and the bewty of modern paper cutters covers in the shadow of the same sad fate. Well G, pop, let's do it, let's find out, maybe we can do it with your penknife, I said, and pop said, Get thee behind me, Satan. In desperation I invoke the power of money. And I sold it to him feeling lucky.

Thoughts On Modern Life

THE STATES AS LABORATORIES

The Roosevelt regime has been characterized by two major drives, viz:

- (1) A drive for social experimentation.
- (2) A drive for political centralization.

It is the coming together of these two drives that raises some very fundamental issues.

It is of the essence of responsible experimentation that it be conducted on a small scale until the nature of its actual results are known.

With an experiment prosecuted on a small scale, we learn what to retain, what to eliminate, and what new factors or principles to introduce.

When these three things have been learned, then we may proceed with assurance to apply the proved policy to the total enterprise whether it be a business or a nation that is involved.

This has been one of the great advantages of the division of powers between the states and the nation in the American system.

The states have been available as political, social and economic laboratories. The more daring states have been able to try out new theories of taxation, industrial control, political procedure, and so on, without gambling with the whole national future. When new theories have here and there proved futile or dangerous when tried out in a single state, we have been able to junk them in a single state so much more easily than we could have junked them had the whole nation been committed to them.

The unevenness of progress among the states is regrettable. The impotence of the reformer who sees in the national power a quicker path to his desires is understandable. But it is an open question whether the successful experiments of an all-powerful national government will not, over the run of years, be more than offset by its unsuccessful experiments.

At any rate, it seems to me that the function of the state as laboratories for small scale experimentation should be very carefully assessed before we rush into any undue expansion of the federal power.

MEMORY GEMS

"This is the first time she has ever been in school. She's just six today. She's a very bright child. Not that I want to brag about my child, but she really is exceptionally bright. She knows more memory gems than any other child in the neighborhood. Say Cock Robin for the teacher, Grace."

Grace was very bright. She learned quickly whatever was taught. She knew about all of Mother Goose, many of the rhymes and stories in Stevenson's "Child Garden of Verses," could sing any number of songs. She was eager to enter school and learn to read and "do lessons." She was promptly admitted and placed in the beginner's class. All went well up to dismissal time. Then Grace got lost.

"Miss Mary, do you know this little girl? She's crying. I found her down at the corner. She wants to go home, but she doesn't know her way."

"Why, this is the little girl who came to school just this morning. Of course I know her. Don't you know your way home, Grace?" "No, I don't. I'm lost. I want to go home to my mother."

"Couldn't you tell the monitor where you live? He would have taken you home."

"I asked the little girl, but she doesn't know her address, or anything. Can you get her address, Miss Mary?" asked the monitor.

"Of course. It is in the roll book. But she ought to know her address. You do know where you live, don't you, Grace?"

"Yes, I know where I live, but I can't find it!"

The teacher gave the monitor the address and he took Grace home to her mother, who had been out looking for her. Grace had not seen her in the rush of dismissal. One of the children told her that Grace had gone home. Both the mother and the child were frightened and fearful. Grace was so upset that she could not eat her lunch and had to stay home for the afternoon.

Among the first memory gems taught a little child should be his own name and address, his father's name, mother's name, the telephone number, then the names and addresses of the nearest relatives. After that the youngster needs to be introduced to the police officer most likely to be at hand when needed. He makes the officer's acquaintance so that if and when he is lost he can go to him and ask for help.

A child who can memorize Mother Goose and the rest of the nursery literature can learn his name and address, and can be taught to ask the responsible officer for help in time of need. Again and again we find children who do not know these essential facts in time of trouble.

Teach the little ones this simple memory gem. Teach them why they have to know it. Make it easy for them to find themselves when they are lost. And send the child's name and address and telephone number on a stout linen label that is firmly attached to his shirt collar. It will help, too, if that label is sewed securely into every garment he wears to school.
